

COVET

EDITED BY ARIANNE NARDO

• Reflections of/the way life used to be. From Diana's lips that introspection sounds hopeful. The Angel and Devil mirrors: your radiant moral code with nowhere to hide. Expertly crafted, these limited editions are part of the Aldus collection, by acclaimed Roman architect Achille Salvagni and his cousin, architect Fabio Gnessi. Inspired by the ancient technique, practiced by the Etruscans and Egyptians, of using highly polished bronze, Angel and Devil do not feature actual mirrored glass, only wings or a tail; and the scintillating showdown of good versus evil. Part of the exclusive trove at the virtuous Maison Gerard. maison Gerard.com; 1stdibs.com
